The People of the State of California, Plaintiff.

vs.

No. 4281

THOMAS LEON KAYLOR

CONVICTED OF Misdemeanor, Viol. Sec. 192.3(b) P. C.

Defendant.

The district attorney, with the defendant Thomas Leon Kaylor and with counsel A. Hugo Pearson came into court.

The defendant was duly informed by the court of the Information filed against him on the 5th day of April 1966 by the District Attorney charging him with the crime of felony to wit: Viol. Sec. 192.3(a) P. C., four counts, and Viol. Sec. 23101 V. C. three counts committed on the 6th day of November 1967. On May 9, 1966 Counts II, III, IV, V, VI and VII were dismissed in the interest of justice and Count I was reduced to misdemeanor manslaughter, Viol. Sec. 192.3(b) P. C.

his arraignment and plea of guilty and probation was granted on June 20, 1966 for five years with certain terms and conditions and it now appearing that this probation has been violated, the matter of ~~trial and the verdict of the jury on the~~ was duly set ~~to~~ this date for hearing the evidence regarding violation of probation and the defendant appeared in person and with counsel A. Hugo Pearson, and after hearing the evidence the court finds that the terms and conditions of probation have been violated to wit: he drove an automobile while his license was suspended and used intoxicating beverages and therefore probation is hereby revoked.

The defendant Thomas Leon Kaylor was then asked if he had any legal cause to show why judgment should not be pronounced against him to which defendant replied he had none

And no sufficient cause being shown or appearing to the court, thereupon the court renders its judgment:—
